
Go Dairy Free Sweetens the Deal in the Ongoing Monthly Giveaway

Resolving to reward loyal newsletter readers in the New Year, GoDairyFree.org has revamped the monthly giveaway for better odds and more great prizes. The inaugural giveaway for 2008 will award two winners with an autographed copy of the new dessert cookbook, My Sweet Vegan by Hannah Kaminsky. The winners will be chosen from among those who correctly respond to a question within the Go Dairy Free monthly newsletter ...

On the first Monday of each month a Go Dairy Free newsletter is sent out to subscribers with announcements, news, product review updates, and a featured recipe. Beginning in February, a giveaway question will appear in each newsletter. Those who respond correctly will be placed in the running to win the monthly prize. The February newsletter will hit inboxes on February 4th, 2008. Sign up for the newsletter is free on www.godairyfree.org, and only your name and email address is required.

My Sweet Vegan, the February prize, was just released in December 2007. It is filled with egg-free, dairy-free desserts and sweets, ranging from kid-friendly Whoopie Pies to the author's award-winning Mocha Devastation Cake. A food allergy index in the back helps those with additional concerns, by noting which recipes are also peanut-free, tree nut-free, soy-free, and/or gluten-free. Hannah Kaminsky acted as the sole photographer and author for My Sweet Vegan, producing a full color photo for each recipe. She felt it was important that readers be able to tell what the finished product could be expected to look like.

My Sweet Vegan is available via amazon.com, barnesandnoble.com, veganessentials.com, and cosmosveganshoppe.com. For more information, visit www.mysweetvegan.com.

GoDairyFree.org is an informational website for dairy-free living. While the Go Dairy Free website and newsletter always have a milk-free focus, every effort is made to cater to additional special diet concerns, including vegan, multiple food allergies (eggs, nuts, soy), and the gluten-free / casein-free diet (GFCF). Enjoy www.godairyfree.org for the latest news, product reviews, recipes, special diet information, and to view past newsletters.
