

Sjaak's Expands their Product Line of Organic Dark Chocolate Indulgences

Alisa Fleming, www.GoDairyFree.org ~ The Fair Trade, Organic Chocolatier otherwise known as Sjaak's, released a whole slue of wonderful new chocolates at Expo West. The new range seems to capitalize on this year's superfood and antioxidant theme with ingredients such as acai, ginger, almonds, and of course, the best "new" superfood of them all, dark chocolate. Sjaak's new products come in (almost) guilt-free, bite-sized portions, with the following varieties adding to their already extensive vegan (yep, no dairy) line-up:

- Dark with Creamy Mint small bites
- Dark with Creamy Orange small bites
- Dark with Creamy Ginger small bites
- Dark with Creamy Acai small bites
- Dark with creamy caramel small bites
- Dark with Almond Butter-Large bites
- Dark with Peanut Butter- Large Bites
- Extra Dark-Large Bites

The new bites are slated to be available to the public near the end of April. For more information, or to purchase Sjaak's Fair Trade, Organic, Vegan Chocolates, visit the Sjaak's website.