

Summer Fresh Hummus and Pesto Pack a Surprising Flavor Punch

Last week, Hannah, our resident hummus addict, branched out from her standard brand to trial a relatively new brand, Summer Fresh. To her surprise, her beloved Tribe hummus now has some serious competition. The Original "...was anything but tasteless; a myriad of spices gives it an unexpected complexity." The Roasted Red Pepper "...boasted a bright, fresh peppery essence, with a detectable note of char, as if the peppers had just come off the fire." And the Garlic "...was topped with unadulterated chunks of roasted garlic, olive oil, and herbs, making for an impressive presentation straight out of the container." Enough with the quotes though, you can read her full review of the hummus, or even jump over to her review of Summer Fresh's new line of Pesto (a few varieties are dairy-free and vegan!).