

Amy's Tofu Scramble Recalled for Undeclared Milk

November 8, 2008 ~ Amy's Tofu Scramble in a Pocket Sandwich, a frozen breakfast entree from Amy's Kitchen Inc. of Santa Rosa, has been recalled. The company issued a voluntary recall on the product as it contains milk, but is labeled as non-dairy. It is sold in the U.S., and the recalled product has the following code date printed in white on the easy-open zipper end is: 10 H148 A,B,C or D. For instructions or questions, consumers can call the company at 568-4500 and ask for the consumer services department at ext. 4571. Consumers not allergic to milk ingredients can consume the product or call for a full refund.