

Alternative Baking Company Issues Recall on Cookies with Chocolate Chips Due to Undeclared Milk

April 16, 2009 - Alternative Baking Company, Inc. of Sacramento, California is conducting a nationwide recall of several types of chocolate chip cookies with code dates of 015 through 036 stamped on the fold of the cellophane package in black ink. The chips appear to contain milk and have caused reactions in a few children who are highly allergic to milk according to phone calls from parents of the affected children. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk, run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume this product. The cookies are wrapped and sold individually in retail stores and on their web site. Listed in the chart are the cookies with the pertinent information for identifying the recalled cookies ...

ProductUPC #Date Code
(Stamped on fold)WeightUnit

Colossal Chocolate Chip703741 000178015 through 0364.25 ozEach

Explosive Espresso Chocolate Chip703741 001014015 through 0364.25 ozEach

Peanut Butter Chocolate Chip703741 000635015 through 0364.25 ozEach

Double Chocolate Decadence703741 000628015 through 0364.25 ozEach

Mac the Chip703741 000352015 through 0364.25 ozEach

Alternative Baking Company has since found a new company which guarantees their chocolate chips are: 100% Vegan, 100% Dairy Free and Processed on Dedicated Equipment.

Consumers are to return any of these products with the codes of 015 through 036 to the store where purchased to exchange them or to received a full refund. Consumers may also mail their cookies with the proper codes to Alternative Baking Co., 3914 Kristi Court, Sacramento, CA 95827. Our hours are Monday through Friday 8am to 4pm (PT), phone number is (888) 488-9725.